Customer Reviews

"Another strength of the McCord text is the use of case law throughout the text...the exhibits in the text are wonderful...The internet exercises are extremely well put-together. The exercises also force the student to use real life applicability to solve problems...Even without the addition of the FRE in the appendix I would adopt this text because it has proved to be a more comprehensive text than the one that I am currently using." "I absolutely love the cases. They provide a great foundational resource to work with during the course of a term or semester. So many texts overlook the value of case scenarios and it's great to see them incorporated into the text as the author has done. This, in my mind, is one thing that truly distinguishes this text from the average text on the market."

James McCord is an experienced trial attorney in criminal law, professor at the University of Wisconsin Law School, and a member of the Wisconsin and Kentucky Bar Associations. A frequent Professor Bailey has published a number of articles over the course of her career and has previously co-authored the book, Constitutional Law. She is currently an Associate Professor at Western Illinois University-Quad Cities in Moline, Illinois.

Excellent book. Well written and gives extra help at the end of the chapters. You won't regret buying from here. Cheaper than other sites that claim to be more affordable.

This was one of my more favorite books to read out of all my law books. The ease and lightness of its weight made me carry it in my bookbag even on nights I didn't have that subject. Thank you. Price a little steep then the school bookstore, but it was out of stock so I had no choice, otherwise it was worth it.
