4 Walls - The Internal Effects Of The Prison Archetype

Synopsis

Can architecture work as means to influence the human mind through spatial rehabilitation? How does spatial implications affect the human mind? The concept of incarceration is a mystery to many people in the US and worldwide. Since these institutions are closed spaces, there is limited access and limited exposure to the reality that goes on behind these walls. Corrupt jail systems have been an ongoing issue in the UN and in the European Court of Human Rights, as many nonviolent offenders spend vast amount of time in jail. However through lack of media attention as well as painting human flaws as evil the general mind will folder these individuals as deserving of their fate. This results in high recidivism rates that eventually harms the society around us. Remember, the people we condemn and isolate are the ones that will be living next door. This piece may conflict the way you view the reality behind prisons and that is exactly why you should read it.
